FAQ – Players Representing Players

1. Am I more than just a contract?

Absolutely. With me, you're not just signing a deal, you're building a relationship. I've played at the college level, I've been through the transfer portal, and I know firsthand how this is a business. But I also know it's bigger than that. With my agency, you're not just getting a representative; you're getting a teammate who becomes family. Our relationship doesn't stop when the season ends or when your career is over, it's built to last a lifetime.

2. What makes your approach different from other agencies?

Of course, I'm going to do everything in my power to help you maximize your ability and reach the NFL. That's the dream, and I'll push with you all the way. But while you have this platform that only 1% of athletes ever get, my job is to help you take full advantage of every area possible: NIL, networking, financial planning, branding, and life after sports. That way, we don't leave anything on the table, and you're set up for success no matter what.

3. How do I prepare myself to go to the NFL?

Preparation is everything. I help you with the details most athletes overlook how you carry yourself on and off the field, how you use NIL to get noticed, and how to build a brand teams want to invest in. From workouts to interviews, I'll make sure you're ready for every step of the process.

4. What's the value of your network?

My network is deep. Some of my closest friends are already in the NFL, and I've built strong relationships with people who know exactly what it takes to get there. You're not just getting my experience, you're getting access to a whole circle of athletes, coaches, and professionals who can open doors for you.

5. How do I choose the right university as a high school recruit?

I've been in the transfer portal, I've lived the reality of picking the wrong spot, and I know how important this decision is. It's not just about chasing the biggest bag. It's about balance:

- A coaching staff that believes in you.
- A real opportunity to play early.
- A program that will help you grow on and off the field.
- And yes, a place where you can earn through NIL in the right way.

I'll give you real-life stats, real insight into what financial situations actually look like, and the reality behind empty promises some schools throw around. You'll have my experience to guide you into a situation that fits your goals—not just someone else's agenda.

6. Do I have to pay taxes on NIL or contract money?

Yes. NIL money and endorsements are taxable. I'll help you get ahead of it by connecting you with professionals who understand the athlete space, so you're protected when tax season comes.

7. How can I invest my money the right way?

I've seen how quickly money can slip away if there's no plan. That won't be you. I'll make sure you're connected to trusted financial experts who can teach you how to invest in real estate, stocks, retirement accounts, and more. The goal: build wealth that lasts.

8. How do I use NIL to set myself up for the future?

NIL is bigger than quick cash or free stuff it's about building relationships and a professional reputation that carry over into pro contracts, business ventures, and life after football. Used right, it's a launchpad.

9. What opportunities do I have as a student-athlete right now?

You're in a position most people dream about. You've got a spotlight, a platform, and connections built into your college experience. I'll help you leverage those opportunities into something bigger whether that's internships, community projects, or partnerships that last beyond your playing days.

10. What's your ultimate goal for me?

My mission is simple: when you leave the game, you leave it better than you entered. That means financially stable, mentally sharp, and professionally prepared. I want you to have options, freedom, and a legacy not regrets. With me, you're not just building a career, you're building a future that lasts a lifetime.

11. Why should parents trust you with their son or daughter?

When your child goes off to school, they'll be facing new experiences on and off the field some of the same challenges I went through myself. I know that sometimes athletes don't always feel comfortable confiding in their parents, but they will with someone who's walked the same path. That shared experience builds a level of trust and connection you can't fake. On top of that, I'm available around the clock. Whether it's a recruiting decision, a tough practice, or a late-night call before game day, I'll be there. I'm not just here for contracts I'm here as a mentor, a support system, and a teammate for life.
